"We would have never been able to afford camp. Telling my kids yes to something they really wanted to do was amazing! I could relax more that week knowing they weren't sitting around, while I slept or went to the doctor."

~Meghan, Go Jen Go Grantee, Breast Cancer Thriver

In Their Own Words: The Gift of Camp

“It meant a lot to have financial help for my son to attend the summer program at his school. I loved seeing Aayush learning new things and spending time with his friends. My hope is to get better and many days of playing with my son in my future.”

~Hani, Go Jen Go Grantee,
Breast Cancer Survivor

“The scholarships gave my daughters the freedom to escape from the demanding and tight grip of my diagnosis and medical bills that have followed. One of the highlights was seeing how excited and motivated they were to find and be amongst their peer tribe!”

~Allison, Go Jen Go Grantee,
Breast Cancer Survivor

“I love both museums! I love playing and learning about and riding the trains. I like to spend time with my family. The kids museum is more fun than my house!” – James, Age 4

“I like to go! I love playing doctor.” – Harper, Age 2

Children of Tricia, Go Jen Go Grantee,
Breast Cancer Survivor

“This scholarship meant a lot to our family. My daughter was able to do driver education, something I couldn’t afford otherwise. Kynslie is excited about driving and she had so much to share with me after each of her driving sessions.”

~Beatrice,
Go Jen Go Grantee, Breast
Cancer Survivor

Established in 2023, this fund was created in memory of our beloved friend, Mood Williams, who was a long-time supporter, one of our biggest cheerleaders, and part of our Go Jen Go family. After our co-founder, Jen Pagani’s passing, Mood always focused on how her sons were doing. He knew it was a formative time in their lives and the impact their mom fighting and passing away from breast cancer had on their childhood and future.
